

Africa Connected: Doing business in Africa

Investment is the theme of the first edition of Africa Connected, our new collection of in-depth articles on doing business in Africa.

In this issue, we have cross-border articles on China’s One Belt One Road initiative, the Big Five of tax restructuring, and private equity as a catalyst for growth in Africa. Also featured are jurisdiction-specific pieces on Kenya, Morocco, Namibia, Nigeria, South Africa and Zimbabwe.

Browse the six articles below, or read the full edition.

China's One Belt One Road: Opportunities in Africa

How the initiative is benefiting trade and investment in Africa, including strategic focuses and key projects.

Read more

Investing in Africa: The Big Five of tax structuring

What foreign investors in Africa need to know about topics including capital gains tax and corporate income tax.

Read more

Private equity as a catalyst for growth in Africa

A look at the risks and challenges for firms and investors – along with the promises and opportunities.

Read more

Private equity trends in Morocco: Gateway to Sub-Saharan Africa

Private equity is a credible alternative to bank financing, but obstacles to growth remain – including a rigid tax system.

Read more

South African M&A: The impact of data protection laws

A practical guide to complying with South African and EU data protection rules during due diligence.

Read more

Transfer pricing in Zimbabwe: A look at Econet Wireless allegations

Zimbabwe is open for business, its new president has said - but investors must understand its transfer pricing laws.

Read more

Subscribe

Be the first to read our legal insights

Feedback

Let us know what we can do better. Get in touch

Find out more

Visit www.dlapiper.com/africa

Forward to a friend

